I have an opening EVP for you

This was caught in my kitchen a couple of years ago. You hear a little girl humming and then she bursts into a song about her dolly going to school. I hasten to add that I do not have any girls..just 2 teenage boys..and they were out with their father. I was home alone...

I like the new EVP, but this one is not quite as clear. Are you using some form of noise reduction? Because it seems like some of the frequencies have been enhanced. I hear the voices, but not quite sure what they say. I can't hear "Are you alright" and "Yes dear" in there. But its clearly a voice saying something.

The Michael jackson EVP sounds like its saying "No..."

I would suggest creating a new thread for each EVP though. It makes it easier to keep the discussions separated. Else they all run together and they may get missed in the confusion.

Hello

With regard to the Michael Jackson recording..The voice doe indeed answer "No"..I also have one where I asked if Michael Jacksons ghost haunts the Neverland Ranch...the answer I got was "He'd have to be dead"..

It's difficult to tell, but it sounds like the voice, possibly male is saying "No" in answer to the question.
