No it is closer to the beggining about a 1/4 way through. It is very low so listen close.

Ya I heard that growl and its seems like a man saying something towards the end after the question was said.

I've taken the sound at index 11.5 seconds to index 14.5 seconds into the recording.

I've then performed noise reduction cleanup algorithmic on it to clean it up a bit.

Then you could hear that they were actual words being spoken. But it was a bit fast and high pitch so I slowed it down just a little to make it easier to understand.

Here's what it says.

Sounds to me like its saying...

"You really are culpable!" And it seems to be a somewhat angry voice...
