So, if it works for everyone else do you want to shoot for 9pm eastern, 8pm central.

Lets lock down a time so we can give everyone a chance to plan to be there.

As for instructions. For anyone wishing to attend:

1. First, in order to get to the chat area, a registered account is required. So please sign up and register before Sunday evening to make sure you don't miss out. Registration is completely free.

2. Since the chat system is Flash based, a computer which supports Adobe Flash is required. I know windows computers work, most Mac based computers work, Android phones work. I believe currently Flash is not supported on iPad or iPhones.
3. I would strongly recommend testing the Chat function before the meeting. To do so, once you're signed into the site with your account simply click the "CHAT" button along the top menu bar.
